Invest With Colby

Education only, not advice

Everything Invest With Colby provides, including the Financial Freedom Dashboard, the example investing plans, lessons, calculators, reports, community content, and conversations with Colby, is general educational information about personal finance and investing. It is not financial advice, investment advice, tax advice, or legal advice, and it is not personalized to your situation. Nothing here is a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold any investment, or to follow any strategy, plan, or allocation, including the example plans inside the dashboard.

No advisory relationship

Using these materials, owning this dashboard, or speaking with Colby does not make him your investment adviser, broker, accountant, or fiduciary. He is an educator. For advice about your own situation, talk with a licensed professional who knows your full picture.

Investing has risk

All investing involves risk, including the possible loss of the money you invest. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Projections, calculators, backtests, fund grades, and example numbers in these materials are illustrations built on assumptions, and real results will differ. Dividend and distribution rates change over time and are never guaranteed. Options involve substantial risk: selling options can lead to large losses and to shares being bought or sold at the strike price, and options are not right for everyone. Never invest or trade with money you cannot afford to lose.

Your decisions are yours

You are solely responsible for every financial decision you make. Colby provides education only. He does not make decisions for you, and he does not manage money for you. To the fullest extent allowed by law, Invest With Colby and Colby Hill are not liable for any loss or damage that results from your use of these materials, or from decisions you make based on them.

Information can be wrong

Dashboard figures come from your own entries and from third-party sources, including market data providers and any account connections you make inside your own Muse. Data can be delayed, incomplete, or wrong. Verify important numbers with your bank or broker before you act on them.

Third-party platforms

Your dashboard runs on your own Muse account. Invest With Colby does not provide, control, or guarantee Muse, Plaid, Whop, or any other platform you use with it, and it is not responsible for their availability, security, pricing, or changes.
